

One Day Symposium on Potential of Nanotechnology for Impacting Industry and Society

September 18, 2024 at NIBGE, Faisalabad.

Event will be in hybrid mode, so can be attended in-person or online. However, physical presence is must for poster competition.

Nanotechnology is considered as one of the important technologies which have recently emerged in the globe. Nanotechnology is vibrant area of science, technology and engineering which exhibits great potential of applications in diversified sectors such as Health, Food & Agriculture, Textile, Electronics, Environment, Energy, Biomedical, Pharmaceuticals, Energy, etc. National Institute for Biotechnology and Genetic Engineering (NIBGE) has established a strong infrastructure to carry out cutting edge research related with this promising field. Nanobiotechnology Group (NBT) at NIBGE is a dynamic and active group which has proved its excellence in the field of nanotechnology through research articles, funded projects, valued local & international collaborations, patent, books, MS/PhD students produced, industrial linkages, sophisticated techniques/equipment, commercial analytical services and organization of event, etc. Like every year, we hereby announce ONE DAY SYMPOSIUM ON POTENTIAL OF NANOTECHNOLOGY FOR IMPACTING INDUSTRY AND SOCIETY. We hope that this event will provide all the participants with a good thrill of motivation as well as novel opportunity for having an updated information in emerging field of Nanotechnology, and also to establish collaborations.

Registration Closing Date
